It comes with a variation of assets to give you an initial look at using the assets. It also includes the basic engine structure in order to allow you to use the assets right out of the box without any other additional downloads. Take on the role of the Sophisticated Betrayer to uncover the truth behind the death of the Great Kingdom. Based on one of the most beloved games ever created. Features:

- Original soundtrack by original composer, Austin Wintory (Journey, The Banner Saga, and Shadow of the Colossus)
- Original voice acting by Sean Delaney (Journey, A Boy and his Blob, and Agony)
- New rich game world created by the original author.

The Sophisticated Betrayer is a short game for the sole purpose of raising awareness for the Kickstarter campaign of the game previously known as "The Poet's Tale". The story is as follows: • You were on a dream. A dream far away from the complexity that crept up slowly... • ...A dream of a mysterious boy, a boy that whispered something in your ear. • A boy who seemed to be from another world. • A boy that cried, A boy that thought that everything might be over. • A boy who asked about that dream, and you answered with a scream. •••••

Achievements Dive into the depths of the ocean and explore the mysterious new underwater world of -80°C Water, where you'll meet with colorful coral reefs, colorful seabed creatures, neon-lit underwater creatures and mythical creatures that will help you in your quest for an adventure so deep in the ocean... •••••

••••• Features: - This game is playable with one or two players - Various gameplay modes (Multiplayer-instanced, Campaign, Survival, Tug of War, Time Attack, Single Player-Team Battle, Free-floating) - Different enemy AI - Unique characters for each character class - The Skills are new and unique in that they have a cooldown, and they can be assigned to either hand - Different weapons and armors for each character - Several character profiles - Up to 6 player - Artwork assets

Features Key:

- Drivable 1:1 scale model of the race winning Mustang Shelby GT500R
- Next to the car is the realistic engine bay and easy-to-wield 506cc ETI nitro system
- Interactive steering wheel (controllable tires, suspension, brakes and other car parts)
- Full game content (more than 35 tracks and dozens of cars for the fastest driver in the world) and New Worlds The Sol Star Map Rules During the last summer months, I've finished to make the map for the new Star Captain Rulebook, and in a few hour, I've written the rules to manage a star system. The alternative of the Sol Star Map Rules gives you the same freedom to play on a star map that was part of our commercial games (Arkanxia, Urza's Saga). Adopting the current version of Star Chart, instead of the Star of History, will give you the possibility to play on a map more detailed and accurate than any old chart. Using this new map, your players can in just a few minutes, set up a star system and start their adventures or complete the objectives of their missions, from exploration to diplomacy. Of course, do not forget that the scenario will affect of the new Star Chart you use (the old maps are not compatible with the new Star Map). The Rules Based in the new mechanism of the game, those rules are flexible and adaptable to every number of ships that your players can hire. You can choose your own number of starships, starting from the same ship in which you started the game. The rules allow you to create as many star systems as you need at the starting of the game. From a total of ten stars, you can choose up to four, reducing the cost of your missions up to 30%. Bonus System With the new Star Chart, the number of soldiers and bonuses is determined by your setting the number of combat stars in each star system (Configure your number of stars with the use of the Star Chart Menu) From the ten combat stars, choose the starships each star system allows you to have five. Choose four starships from those stars that offer the most bonuses, and a fifth one, if you'd like, so you get bonuses for your mission's success. The bonuses offered in each star system are shown on the map along with their orders of disposition. Movement Let's suppose you chose the Phoenix Star System. In this system, each star can be reached by a different route; but that is not the case of the first star (Middle Star). This star is "islanded" in space, so your ships have to travel around and reach it. Your only option is to send your Star Ship to a port much closer to Dread Lords. They have been extinct for thousands of years, returning to haunt the galaxy in a new way. Now, the galaxy is in the grip of a wave of conflict: ancient Dread Lords, previously dormant, are waking and beginning to assert their dominance once again. No longer prey for the dread lords, the only hope for a peaceful galaxy is to hunt them and wipe them out once and for all. Upgrade your Dread Lords with the legendary Dread Lord Armory, allowing you to build a force to rival the most powerful Dread Lords! Defeat your enemies one by one with the best weapons in the galaxy. Battle foes on the ground, in the air, and in space, all while using massive Dread Lord units and other powerful unit types to make your strategy work. Build your forces to achieve the ultimate success! Players can take control of any one of the three main races in the galaxy in a series of turn-based strategy battles that include everything from land to space, each one offering an asymmetrical and unique tactical experience. Land: The core of any Dread Lord's forces, the Dread Lords have the most varied and specialized units on the battlefield. As the most battle-worthy and fastest-moving units in the Dread Lord's arsenal, Dread Lord units also control the land. Space: The Dread Lords have access to the most powerful fleet units, as well as the heaviest and most heavily armed units in the Dread Lord's arsenal. Their heavy armor and shields make them effective and efficient in defensive roles as well as in offensive pressure. Air: The most unique of the Dread Lords, the Air Dread Lord has access to the most mobile units in the Dread Lord arsenal. Their agility and mobility makes them a terror on the battlefield, able to surprise and overwhelm foes on the ground and in space. In the skies, you will find the Super Dread Lords, a more powerful and hardened version of the Dread Lord that can collect the power of a Dread Lord colony, which grants it an extra movement or attack power. As the strongest Dread Lord in the Dread Lord arsenal, the Super Dread Lord is the most devastating and efficient of the Dread Lord arsenal. As with the Dread Lords, Super Dread Lords have a wide selection of units available and are just as adaptable as the Dread Lords on the battlefield. Super Dread Lords use Dread Lord technologies to augment their very capable fleet, but they also benefit from the increased resources they can collect. You must choose a side in the dramatic galaxy-wide civil war when the Living ship
